

Annual Report of Business Information for the City of Saskatoon

BUSINESS & EMPLOYMENT PROFILE 2023

Every business that operates in Saskatoon is required to hold a City of Saskatoon Business Licence. This includes businesses operated from institutional, commercial and industrial locations, as well as businesses operated from dwellings. The purposes of the program are to ensure every business is in compliance with municipal zoning and building requirements, as well as to collect business data to inform planning decisions.

The Business and Employment provides a summary and analysis of business licence data in Saskatoon, including information on new businesses, commercial/industrial businesses and home based businesses for 2023. The profile also includes business and employment data by neighbourhood and business sector.

The business data contained within this publication was collected by the City of Saskatoon through the Business License Program. Institutional employment data was collected through a 2023 self-reported optional survey that was sent to governments, non-profit and other entities which are not required to hold a business licence.

The total number of businesses in 2021 was reduced to reflect business closures that occurred during the COVID-19 pandemic but were not reported to the City until 2022.
