Policy and Procedure Review for Naming Advisory Committee

Recommendation

That the information be received.

Topic and Purpose

The purpose of this report is to provide a framework to consider options for the prioritizing and assigning of names for streets and other civic property.

Report Highlights

1. There are a number of approaches that municipalities across Canada take to name streets and civic facilities with no clear best practice.
2. The Names Master List has been provided and organized into themes and by date approved for the Naming Advisory Committee (NAC) to discuss priorities for naming.

Strategic Goal

This report supports the City of Saskatoon's (City) Strategic Goal of Quality of Life by including policy or procedural options to address the assignment of names. The assignment of names to streets and civic facilities can contribute to creating a sense of identity and culture for the City and community.

Background

In 2013, NAC discussed options for amendments to Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas Policy No. C09-008 (Naming Policy) and, at that time, expressed support for the status quo (see Attachment 1 for the full report). At the February 16, 2017 NAC meeting, the Administration was instructed to report back to NAC with options to consider regarding the review of the naming process and policy.

Report

Options for the Assignment of Names

Currently in Saskatoon, names are assigned either by the Mayor, from City Council-approved names from the Names Master List, or by City Council, in the case of specific naming or renaming applications. In other Canadian municipalities, there are three approaches used for the assignment of names:

- a) names assigned by City Council or a Committee including City Councillors (Calgary, Winnipeg, and Vancouver);
- b) names assigned by the Administration alone (Regina, Halifax, Toronto, and Ottawa); or
- c) names assigned by a citizen-led committee (Edmonton).

Each of these options has advantages and drawbacks. A brief summary is provided as Attachment 2 for discussion.

Priorities for Themes in the Assignment of Names

For the benefit of NAC, the Unassigned Section of the Names Master List has been ordered by date, as well as into general themes, including Art, Business, Nature, Sports, Community, Elected Officials, Former City of Saskatoon Department Heads, Veterans, Volunteers, and World Leaders (see Attachment 3 for Names Master List ordered by date; Attachment 4 for Names Master List ordered by theme). NAC has the opportunity to discuss priorities for naming.

Public and/or Stakeholder Involvement

Stakeholders and members of the public are able to make an application for names to be considered for facilities, streets, and parks. Those applications are received by the Community Services Department prior to screening by NAC, and then forwarded to City Council for a decision.

Other Considerations/Implications

There are no options, policy, financial, environmental, privacy, or CPTED implications or considerations; a communication plan is not required at this time.

Due Date for Follow up and/or Project Completion

No follow-up is required.

Public Notice

Public notice, pursuant to Section 3 of Public Notice Policy No. C01-021, is not required.

S/Reports/2017/PD/NAC – Policy and Procedure Review for Naming Advisory Committee/lc

Naming Policy Report – May 2014

The following is a copy of Clause 4, Report No. 7-2014 of the Executive Committee, which was DEALT WITH AS STATED by City Council at its meeting held on May 5, 2014:

4. Naming Process and Policy Review (File No. CK. 6310-1)

RECOMMENDATION: that Policy C09-008, Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas be amended, as outlined in the report of the General Manager, Community Services Department, dated February 11, 2014.

Your Committee has considered and concurs with proposed amendments to the Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas policy, as outlined in the following report of the General Manager, Community Services Department dated February 11, 2014:

TOPIC AND PURPOSE

This report proposes a number of minor policy amendments to Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas Policy No. C09-008 (Naming Policy) and other non-policy measures. This will address concerns raised by the Naming Advisory Committee (NAC) and City Council with the current policy and process.

REPORT HIGHLIGHTS

1. The Naming Policy, in its current form, was established in 2002, and was updated in 2008.
2. The current naming process requires that all names be screened by the NAC and approved by City Council. The only variation in the process is how names are assigned – sometimes by the Mayor and sometimes by City Council.
3. The Administration researched naming policies and processes from a number of Canadian municipalities. There are no clear best practices, but some relevant clauses have been adapted for inclusion in the City of Saskatoon's (City) Naming Policy.
4. The Administration has undertaken a policy review and is proposing process improvements and amendments to the Naming Policy, to address concerns brought forward by the NAC and Executive Committee, as well as a number of minor housekeeping/clarity issues.
5. The Administration will develop a communication plan to renew the public perception/awareness of the naming program and to encourage more inclusion and a greater diversity of names.

STRATEGIC GOAL

This report supports the Strategic Goal of Continuous Improvement by exploring process improvements and proposing policy amendments for better managing naming applications.

BACKGROUND

The Naming Policy was originally established in 1991, and significant amendments in 2002 gave the policy and process its current form. Attachment 1 contains a summary of the amendments.

During its September 9, 2013 meeting, City Council considered a report from the NAC where City Council resolved, in part, that the Administration undertake a review of the Naming Policy and submit a report.

REPORT

Current Naming Process – Summary

There are three different ways names can be applied to municipally owned or controlled facilities. Attachment 2 contains an explanation and diagrams that illustrate the process for each: 1a) and 1b) general naming; 2) specific naming; and 3) renaming.

In all of these cases, all naming submissions must be screened by the NAC as to whether the names satisfy the criteria in the Naming Policy. All names must then be approved by City Council.

The primary difference between the above cases is that for general naming the Mayor selects the name from the City Council approved Names Master List to be assigned to a particular street or facility, whereas for specific naming and renaming applications, City Council both approves the name and assigns it to a particular street or facility.

Best Practices Review

The Administration has undertaken a review of several other cities' naming policies/processes (see Attachment 3). There is no clear best practice, as each municipality's naming policy and process is unique.

Policy/Process Review

The Administration has undertaken a review of the Naming Policy, and has proposed a number of policy amendments and changes in process that are intended to address concerns raised by the NAC and Executive Committee. Attachment 4 contains the proposed changes. Additionally, a number of “housekeeping” policy amendments are proposed by the Administration to improve clarity, consistency with current process, and administrative process. The following is an overview of the elements of the Naming Policy that were reviewed and the proposed amendments.

1. Composition of NAC and Committee Review Process

The NAC indicated general support for the current composition and the overall process for the screening of names.

- A. The Administration considered the NAC’s suggestion that all name screenings could be forwarded to Executive Committee for information. The Administration considered this, but is not recommending this approach since it risks burdening Executive Committee with operational details and would duplicate the function of the NAC.

Instead, the Administration has implemented a change in the NAC meeting agenda circulation process that will address the notification of City Councillors (see Communication Plan section).

- B. A clause was added to the Naming Policy [Section 3.2 e) i)], which clarifies that the deliberation portion of NAC meetings may be held In Camera, at the discretion of the chair, but that the decisions rendered by the NAC are public. This ensures a transparent process while also addressing the sensitivity around discussing the merit of a naming application in public.

2. How Names are Assigned

Names are currently assigned either by the Mayor or City Council depending on the circumstances (see Attachment 3). The NAC expressed support for the status quo. The Administration is therefore not proposing any changes to the process for assigning names.

3. Role of Developers

The process for applying to add a name or names to the Names Master List is the same for individual members of the public as it is for developers. All names must be screened and approved by both the NAC and City Council before being added to the Names Master List. Once a name is on the Names Master List, it can be applied to a street, park, etc. upon request.

Developers are primarily responsible for requesting names to be assigned to streets and other features because they are responsible for the subdivision of land and the creation of new streets, parks, etc.

The Administration is not proposing any amendments to impose restrictions on developers' ability to apply for names. The Administration will work with developers to encourage the use of names that are already on the Names Master List rather than submitting specific requests for new names to be added. This will help ensure that names already on the list and those submitted by the general public are assigned in a more timely fashion.

4. Housekeeping and Process Clarification/Improvement

The following minor policy amendments are proposed to improve clarity and refine the current process:

- A. Reuse of Names (Section 3.9) - When a name is removed from a street, park, or other facility due to renaming or decommissioning, the name will be returned to the Unassigned Names category of the Names Master List and flagged "high priority for reuse".
- B. Extension of Streets [Section 3.3 b) xii) and xiii)] – This will allow for the Administration to assign names for straightforward street extensions rather than requiring the Mayor's approval.
- C. Naming Contests (Section 3.8) – This will sanction contests to name municipally-owned or operated facilities at the discretion of the NAC and City Council. Any naming contests and rules must be consistent with the intent of The Naming Policy.

- D. Preferential Treatment [Section 3.3 b) xi)] – This clarifies that no naming will result in, or be perceived to give, any benefit or preferential treatment to the named party.
- E. Naming of Facilities Within a Park (Section 2.6) – Naming of sports fields, off-leash recreation areas, or other amenities within parks are excluded from the application of the Naming Policy. The naming of such park amenities will be at the discretion of the responsible division(s).
- F. “Housekeeping” (Sections 2.2 and 4.5) – These minor changes are to ensure consistency with the recent corporate re-alignment, to recognize the role of the City Clerk’s Office in the naming process, and to clarify that all screened/approved names should be included on the Names Master List and be categorized as Assigned Names or Unassigned Names.

5. Names Master List Clean-up

The NAC identified a concern with the overall number of names on the Names Master List, as well as the number of duplicates. The Administration will review this list and report back in due course with recommendations to address the number and duplication of names.

OPTIONS TO THE RECOMMENDATION

The Administration has considered a number of options to the recommended policy amendments outlined in the report. If any of these options are selected, the Administration recommends that no amendments be approved at this time so that amendments to the Naming Policy can be considered comprehensively and reported on in due course.

1. Committee Composition

The option exists to change the composition of the NAC. The Administration reviewed the composition of naming committees from other municipalities, as well as other City advisory committees in consideration of this matter.

If this option is chosen, the Administration recommends that the NAC be primarily composed of members of the public with one City Council representative (similar to the Municipal Planning Commission). This committee composition would lead to increased public involvement, and reduced political involvement in the naming process. It would also eliminate Administration's role on the NAC as voting representatives, though the Administration would still provide technical support. Including the public on the NAC may improve the level of diversity/inclusion on the Names Master List and in the naming process. A drawback of this approach is that sensitive discussions around the merit of names would likely need to occur in public.

2. How Names are Assigned

The option exists to change how names are assigned to streets and other facilities. The Administration reviewed the following alternatives for who is responsible for assigning names:

- a) Mayor plus Ward Councillor(s) of the affected area;
- b) the Administration only; or
- c) NAC.

While some of the above options may result in a moderate improvement in the transparency of the process, the Administration does not support them for a number of reasons. In all cases, it would add complexity to the decision making process. Assigning names is often time sensitive and all of the above options increase the possibility of delay. They would also increase the demands on administrative resources. For options b) and c), additional policy guidance would need to be developed to ensure names are assigned appropriately.

If this option is chosen, a more comprehensive review of the Naming Policy would be necessary to ensure that appropriate criteria are developed to guide the assigning of names.

3. Role of Developers

The option exists to impose greater restrictions on the role of developers in the assigning of names in new developments. One option explored by the Administration would be to restrict developers to applying for specific names for only certain parts of neighbourhoods, such as the overall neighbourhood name and key street/park names. In this option, all other names would need to come from the Names Master List.

This option is not recommended since it would rule out the ability of developers to suggest innovative names or propose themes for the areas they are responsible for developing and marketing. The Administration proposes to work with developers to achieve the same result on a voluntary basis, while still allowing flexibility. If the voluntary approach is not successful, this policy option could be re-evaluated at a later time.

POLICY IMPLICATIONS

If the NAC recommends and City Council adopts the above noted recommendations, the Naming Policy will be amended.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

No financial implications have been identified as a result of this report or adoption of its recommendations. The public communication plan may incur nominal costs which will be covered by the naming program operating budget.

PUBLIC AND/OR STAKEHOLDER INVOLVEMENT

The NAC has been consulted on the proposed policy. The NAC's feedback has been incorporated into the Naming Policy amendments and process improvements identified in this report. As per the direction of the NAC, this report will be presented to the Developers Liaison Committee (DLC) for its feedback prior to this report being sent to City Council for approval. If the DLC does not support the proposed policy amendments, the NAC will be consulted prior to the report proceeding to City Council.

COMMUNICATION PLAN

Public

The Administration will develop a communications strategy to encourage more diverse and inclusive involvement in the naming program, as well as renew the existing communication and application materials.

City Council

To ensure that City Councillors are made aware of all forthcoming naming applications and other naming issues before they reach City Council, the City Clerk's Office will now forward all City Councillors a copy of the NAC agenda prior to each meeting.

DUE DATE FOR FOLLOW-UP AND/OR PROJECT COMPLETION

If the recommendations of this report are adopted by City Council, the Naming Policy amendments will be in place and the Administration will proceed with implementation of any process changes.

If the recommendations are not recommended or adopted and/or if any of the alternative options are selected instead, the timeframe will depend on the level of additional review required based on the direction of the NAC and City Council.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPLICATIONS

No environmental and/or greenhouse gas implications have been identified at this time.

PRIVACY IMPACT

There are no privacy implications.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public Notice pursuant to Section 3 of Policy No. C01-021, Public Notice Policy, is not required.

Amendments to Naming Policy from 2002 to 2008

The following is a summary of the changes from 2002 to 2008.

- A. Major policy elements established in 2002 included:
  - 1) creation of the Naming Advisory Committee (NAC) to screen names with membership comprised of:
    - a) six members from the Administration;
    - b) two City Councillors; and
    - c) three members of the general public.
  - 2) creation of a Pre-Approved Names Master List;
  - 3) assignment of responsibility to the NAC for receiving and reviewing request to rename existing streets and civic property; and
  - 4) incorporation of provisions to complement Sponsorship Policy No. C09-028.

- B. Policy amendments in 2005 included:
  - 1) reduction of the size of the NAC from twelve (12) members to six (6) and a change in the composition. The new committee membership comprised of:
    - a) the Mayor;
    - b) two City Councillors (appointed by City Council); and
    - c) three members from the Administration.
  - 2) City Councillors' appointment to the NAC changed to a one-year term, instead of the previous two-year term.

- C. Policy amendments in 2008 included:
  - 1) addition of a description of four categories of "outstanding contributions", which provided guidelines regarding the names that merit nomination and selection;
  - 2) clarification that, where the name of a person is being used for the naming of streets, suburban development areas, and neighbourhoods, surnames alone are to be used;
  - 3) clarification that names are to be removed from the Names Master List once they have been used, except in the case of former elected officials of the City of Saskatoon;
  - 4) addressing the use of duplicate surnames for former City-elected officials and other officials; and
  - 5) other housekeeping items to address inconsistencies and clarify process.

Current Naming Process

Overview:

- A. All naming submissions are screened by the Naming Advisory Committee (NAC) according to the guidelines of the Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas Policy No. C09-008.
- B. If a proposed name meets Naming of Civic Property and Development Areas Policy No. C09-008 guidelines and has sufficient merit, the NAC forwards its recommendation to City Council to add the name to the Names Master List or to name/rename specific assets.
- C. City Council approves or denies the NAC's recommendations for names to be added to the Names Master List or, in the case of naming/renaming specific assets, to assign the name to a street or facility.
- D. After a name is approved to be on the Names Master List, it can be selected by His Worship the Mayor to be applied to a roadway or other asset. Selections usually occur as new neighbourhoods are developed and developers submit requests for specific names, or will ask His Worship the Mayor to select appropriate names from the Names Master List. At this stage, the selected name then undergoes a technical review to ensure there are no significant issues before it is applied to a street or asset.

Naming Application Types:

- A. General Naming Requests:
  - 1) requests for names to be added to the Names Master List;

- 2) request for names from the Names Master List to be assigned to civic-controlled property;

Request

- Request for name(s) to be assigned comes from developers, members of the public, Saskatoon Land, Civic Departments, etc - received by Planning and Development

Selection

- Request is forwarded to Mayor's Office who selects name(s) from Names Master List for assignment to street (s) or other facility(/ies)

Notification

- Planning and Development notifies applicant and City Council of decision

- B. Specific naming requests to be assigned directly (name is not yet on the Names Master List); and

Application

- Naming request received by Planning and Development for a specific, not-yet-approved name to be applied to a specific street or facility

Screening

- Naming Advisory Committee reviews request in accordance with Council guidelines and recommends support/non-support

Approval

- City Council approves assignment of name to specific street or other facility

C. Renaming requests.
