

Annual Report of Business Information
for the City of Saskatoon

BUSINESS & EMPLOYMENT
PROFILE 2024

Every business in Saskatoon is required to obtain a business licence. This includes businesses operated from institutional, commercial and industrial locations, as well as those operated from dwellings. The City of Saskatoon has maintained the Business Licence Program since 1997, which reviews applications for all types of businesses, and updates bylaws and policies to reflect the frequently changing business environment.

This ensures every business is in compliance with municipal zoning and building regulations, as well as provincial and federal licensing requirements. In addition, it allows for the collection of business data used in this and other publications, and to inform planning decisions for Saskatoon.

The Business & Employment Profile 2024 provides a summary and analysis of business licence data in Saskatoon, including information on new businesses, commercial and industrial businesses, and home-based businesses. The profile includes business and employment data by neighbourhood and business sector. Institutional employment data was collected through a 2023 self-reported optional survey that was sent to governments, non-profit and other entities which are not required to hold a business licence.
