

Responsible Pet Ownership

The Animal Control Bylaw contains many provisions to support a community where pets, their owners and neighbours live in harmony.

- All cats and dogs over four months old must be licensed.
- Licensed cats and dogs must wear a collar to which is attached a valid license tag or have embedded microchip identification.
 - For embedded microchip identification to be valid, the pet must still be licensed with the microchip serial number registered with the licence tag information on the pet licence application.
 - Pet owners are encouraged to have their pet both display a licence tag and have embedded microchip identification as each provides a unique advantage - the licence tag provides a visible display of ownership while the microchip provides identification if the licence tag is lost.
- Failure to license a cat or dog will result in a $250 fine. Fines for other offences listed under the Bylaw start at $30 and increase depending on the offence.
- Cats and dogs are not permitted to be at-large. When outside of the owner's property they must be on a leash. Cats and dogs are not allowed leashed or not on any public playground, in cemeteries, or in Kinsmen, Kiwanis, Friendship, Forestry Farm, and Rotary parks.
- If a pet defecates on any property other than the owner's, the pet owner must remove the defecation immediately.
- Pet owners must remove defecation (feces) from their own property regularly in order to prevent unsanitary and unpleasant conditions from developing.
- Pet owners must not allow their cat or dog to bark or howl so as to create a nuisance.
- Aggressive and dangerous behavior is dealt with under the Dangerous Animal Bylaw.
 - In general, it is an offense to own a dog or cat that, without provocation, attacks, bites, injures, or kills a person or domestic animal.
 - If the animal is declared dangerous by court order, certain mandatory provisions apply:

Responsible Pet Ownership

- If the owner removes the animal from the owner's property, the owner shall muzzle and leash it and keep it under direct control and supervision;
- The owner shall inoculate the animal against rabies;

Winter Ski Trails and Walking your Dog:

The City of Saskatoon and the Nordic Ski Club maintain cross country ski trails throughout the City exclusively for the enjoyment of cross country skiers. If you enjoy walking your dog in areas where there are ski trails, please respect skiers and avoid groomed trails. Ski trails include the wider packed section for skate skiing alongside the parallel tracks. Your footprints and those of your dog can damage the ski tracks and skating lanes, making it difficult to ski and less enjoyable.

Thank you for your cooperation!
