Survey Methodology

The objective of the WinterCityYXE online survey is to better understand Saskatoon residents’ awareness of winter events and activities, as well as their participation in those events and activities. Results will assist City leaders in partnering with community groups to develop a Winter City Strategy that helps residents, businesses and visitors embrace winter in Saskatoon.

The survey questionnaire was designed in consultation with the City of Saskatoon. It was programmed into an online survey platform and pre-tested to ensure the questions flowed efficiently and incorporated correct branching and skip patterns.

A sample frame was developed for deployment with our online community panel partners (Research Now and SSI) to collect feedback that is approximately representative and reflective of Saskatoon’s population.

The survey was live in the field from March 21st to April 5th, 2018. A total of 470 surveys were completed with Saskatoon residents ages 18 years and older.

If the online survey were done by telephone, the sample of 470 adults would let us say with a 95% level of certainty that overall results are within plus or minus 4.6% of what they would be if the entire adult population of Saskatoon were polled. The margin of error is larger for subgroups (i.e., age, gender).¹

¹ Responses sourced from an online community panel technically constitute a non-probability sample. The Market Research and Intelligence Association (MRIA) suggests that because online survey participants are self-selected, a margin of error should not be calculated or quoted. The MRIA also recognizes, however, that online research polls using such convenience samples have, for a number of years, produced results that are reliable predictors of outcomes.
