

WHAT: Construction Projects at Water Treatment Plant

WHEN: Beginning Summer 2019

WHERE: Saskatoon Water Treatment Plant, 11th Street / Avenue H

Two large scale construction projects are taking place at the Water Treatment Plant beginning this summer.

Transfer Pumping and Electrical Upgrade This 3-year project includes the construction of a fully automated transfer pumping system to convey water between plant processes. The project also includes essential electrical upgrades and the addition of standby power generators which will improve the reliability of the Water Treatment Plant's operations.

Enclosure and Security Upgrade This 1-year project includes the construction of a perimeter fence and gatehouse at the Water Treatment Plant for enhanced monitoring and safety.

Common questions

What is the sound we hear across the river?

You may hear noise from construction activities including hydro-excavation, drilling and demolition in the river valley during these construction projects at the Water Treatment Plant. We apologize for the inconvenience and will continue to monitor the noise level.

Will the noise be constant?

The City is aware of the impacts of these activities on nearby residents and will make considerable effort so that these activities are performed during weekdays whenever possible. Recent sound level testing in adjacent neighbourhoods and across the river show levels below what is permitted, and we will continue to monitor sound levels as construction progresses.

Are there quieter ways to do this work?

The hydro-excavation is required by Saskatchewan's Occupational Health and Safety legislation for this type of work, for both the health and safety of workers, and to protect the underground infrastructure.
