

FIRST NATION COMMUNITY PROFILE

About WHITECAP DAKOTA FIRST NATION

“Whitecap Dakota First Nation (WDFN) is a modern and progressive First Nation with a proud culture and a strong sense of community. Whitecap’s members have mandated their leadership to implement a nation-building vision geared toward Strengthening Community and Building Opportunity. With a long history of establishing partnerships, WDFN continues a Spirit of Alliance, working with its neighbours and governments in support of its nation-building agenda” (www.whitecapdakota.com). In May 2023, Whitecap Dakota First Nation Council signed a self-government Treaty with Canada after a decade of negotiations and centuries of being unrecognized as Indigenous people of this country. The parties have committed to build on this new Treaty relationship founded in reconciliation of Whitecap Dakota’s rights in Canada.

HIGHLIGHTS AND OPPORTUNITIES

- WDFN, under the Framework Agreement on First Nations Land Management, has ratified the Whitecap Land Code to assert WDFN government control over its lands and resources. The land code, now in its third generation, provides investor certainty.
- Whitecap Development Corporation (WDC) was incorporated in 1990 as the for-profit arm of the Nation.
- WDC has a portfolio of diversified investments in the tourism, agriculture and industrial services sectors and works with STC Employment and Training Services team to assist members in reaching their career goals.
- WDFN offers market housing to members and non-members.
- WDFN has Commercial/Light Industrial land available for lease at Chief Whitecap Trail Business Park.
- In 2024, WDFN broke ground on the Dakota Dunes Thermal Spa which will complement the existing hotel, casino and golf course on WDFN's reserve lands.
