Adult Beginner Fitness Tips & Programs

finally,
fitness within reach

Smart Start beginner fitness programs were developed to take the guesswork out of physical activity, making it easier to develop a fitness plan that works for you. It was created with the beginner in mind and for those who have not been active for some time. You don't have to be an athlete or fitness guru, you must simply have the desire to start feeling good physically and mentally.

Many participants in Smart Start classes have increased their activity levels and are receiving and enjoying the many benefits of having a physically active lifestyle.

benefits of staying active

- ¥ Revitalizing the mind
- ¥ Relieves stress & tension
- ¥ Reduces fatigue
- ¥ Improves flexibility
- ¥ Increases energy
- ¥ Improves self image & self esteem
- ¥ Assists with weight control

There are many benefits of living an active lifestyle, find yours!

maximizing your benefits

The goal of Smart Start is to help individuals participate in enough regular physical activity so that they can receive health benefits. Incorporating enough physical activity into your lifestyle is easy. Many of the activities you are doing each day contribute to your overall health. Determining how long, how hard and how often you should exercise to achieve health benefits can be calculated by evaluating the intensity and duration of your workout. The following is a guide to help you work towards optimizing health benefits from your physical activity.

Light Activities (gardening, walking, bowling)

Should be done for a total of at least 420 minutes per week. This could mean doing an activity for at least 1 hour, every day.

Moderate Activities

(jogging, yoga, biking, skating, moderate level fitness class)

Should be done for a total of at least 120 minutes per week. This could mean doing an activity for at least 40 minutes, 3 times per week.

Vigorous Activities

(running, racquetball, swimming, upper level fitness class)

Should be done for a total of at least 90 minutes per week. This could mean doing an activity for at least 30 minutes, 3 times per week.

it all adds up

And remember, every physical activity you do (no matter how little you might think) adds to the total amount of activity you have done for the week. Whether you are participating in a yoga class in your neighbourhood, swimming at a leisure centre, or walking your dog in a park, any amount of physical activity contributes to maximizing the personal and health benefits that you'll receive.

fitness within reach

There is no single right way to develop lasting fitness habits: it's about making choices to become more active. There are many program opportunities at different times and locations to better suit your personal preferences and busy schedule.

Community Association adult beginner fitness programs provide affordable, short-term classes close to home. Saskatoon residents can have fun with their neighbours in a comfortable and friendly environment.
