

What is a food forest?

A food forest is a diverse planting of trees, shrubs and plants that produce food such as apples, cherries, Saskatoon berries, plums and strawberries. Food forests are intended to be inviting community spaces for everyone to enjoy!

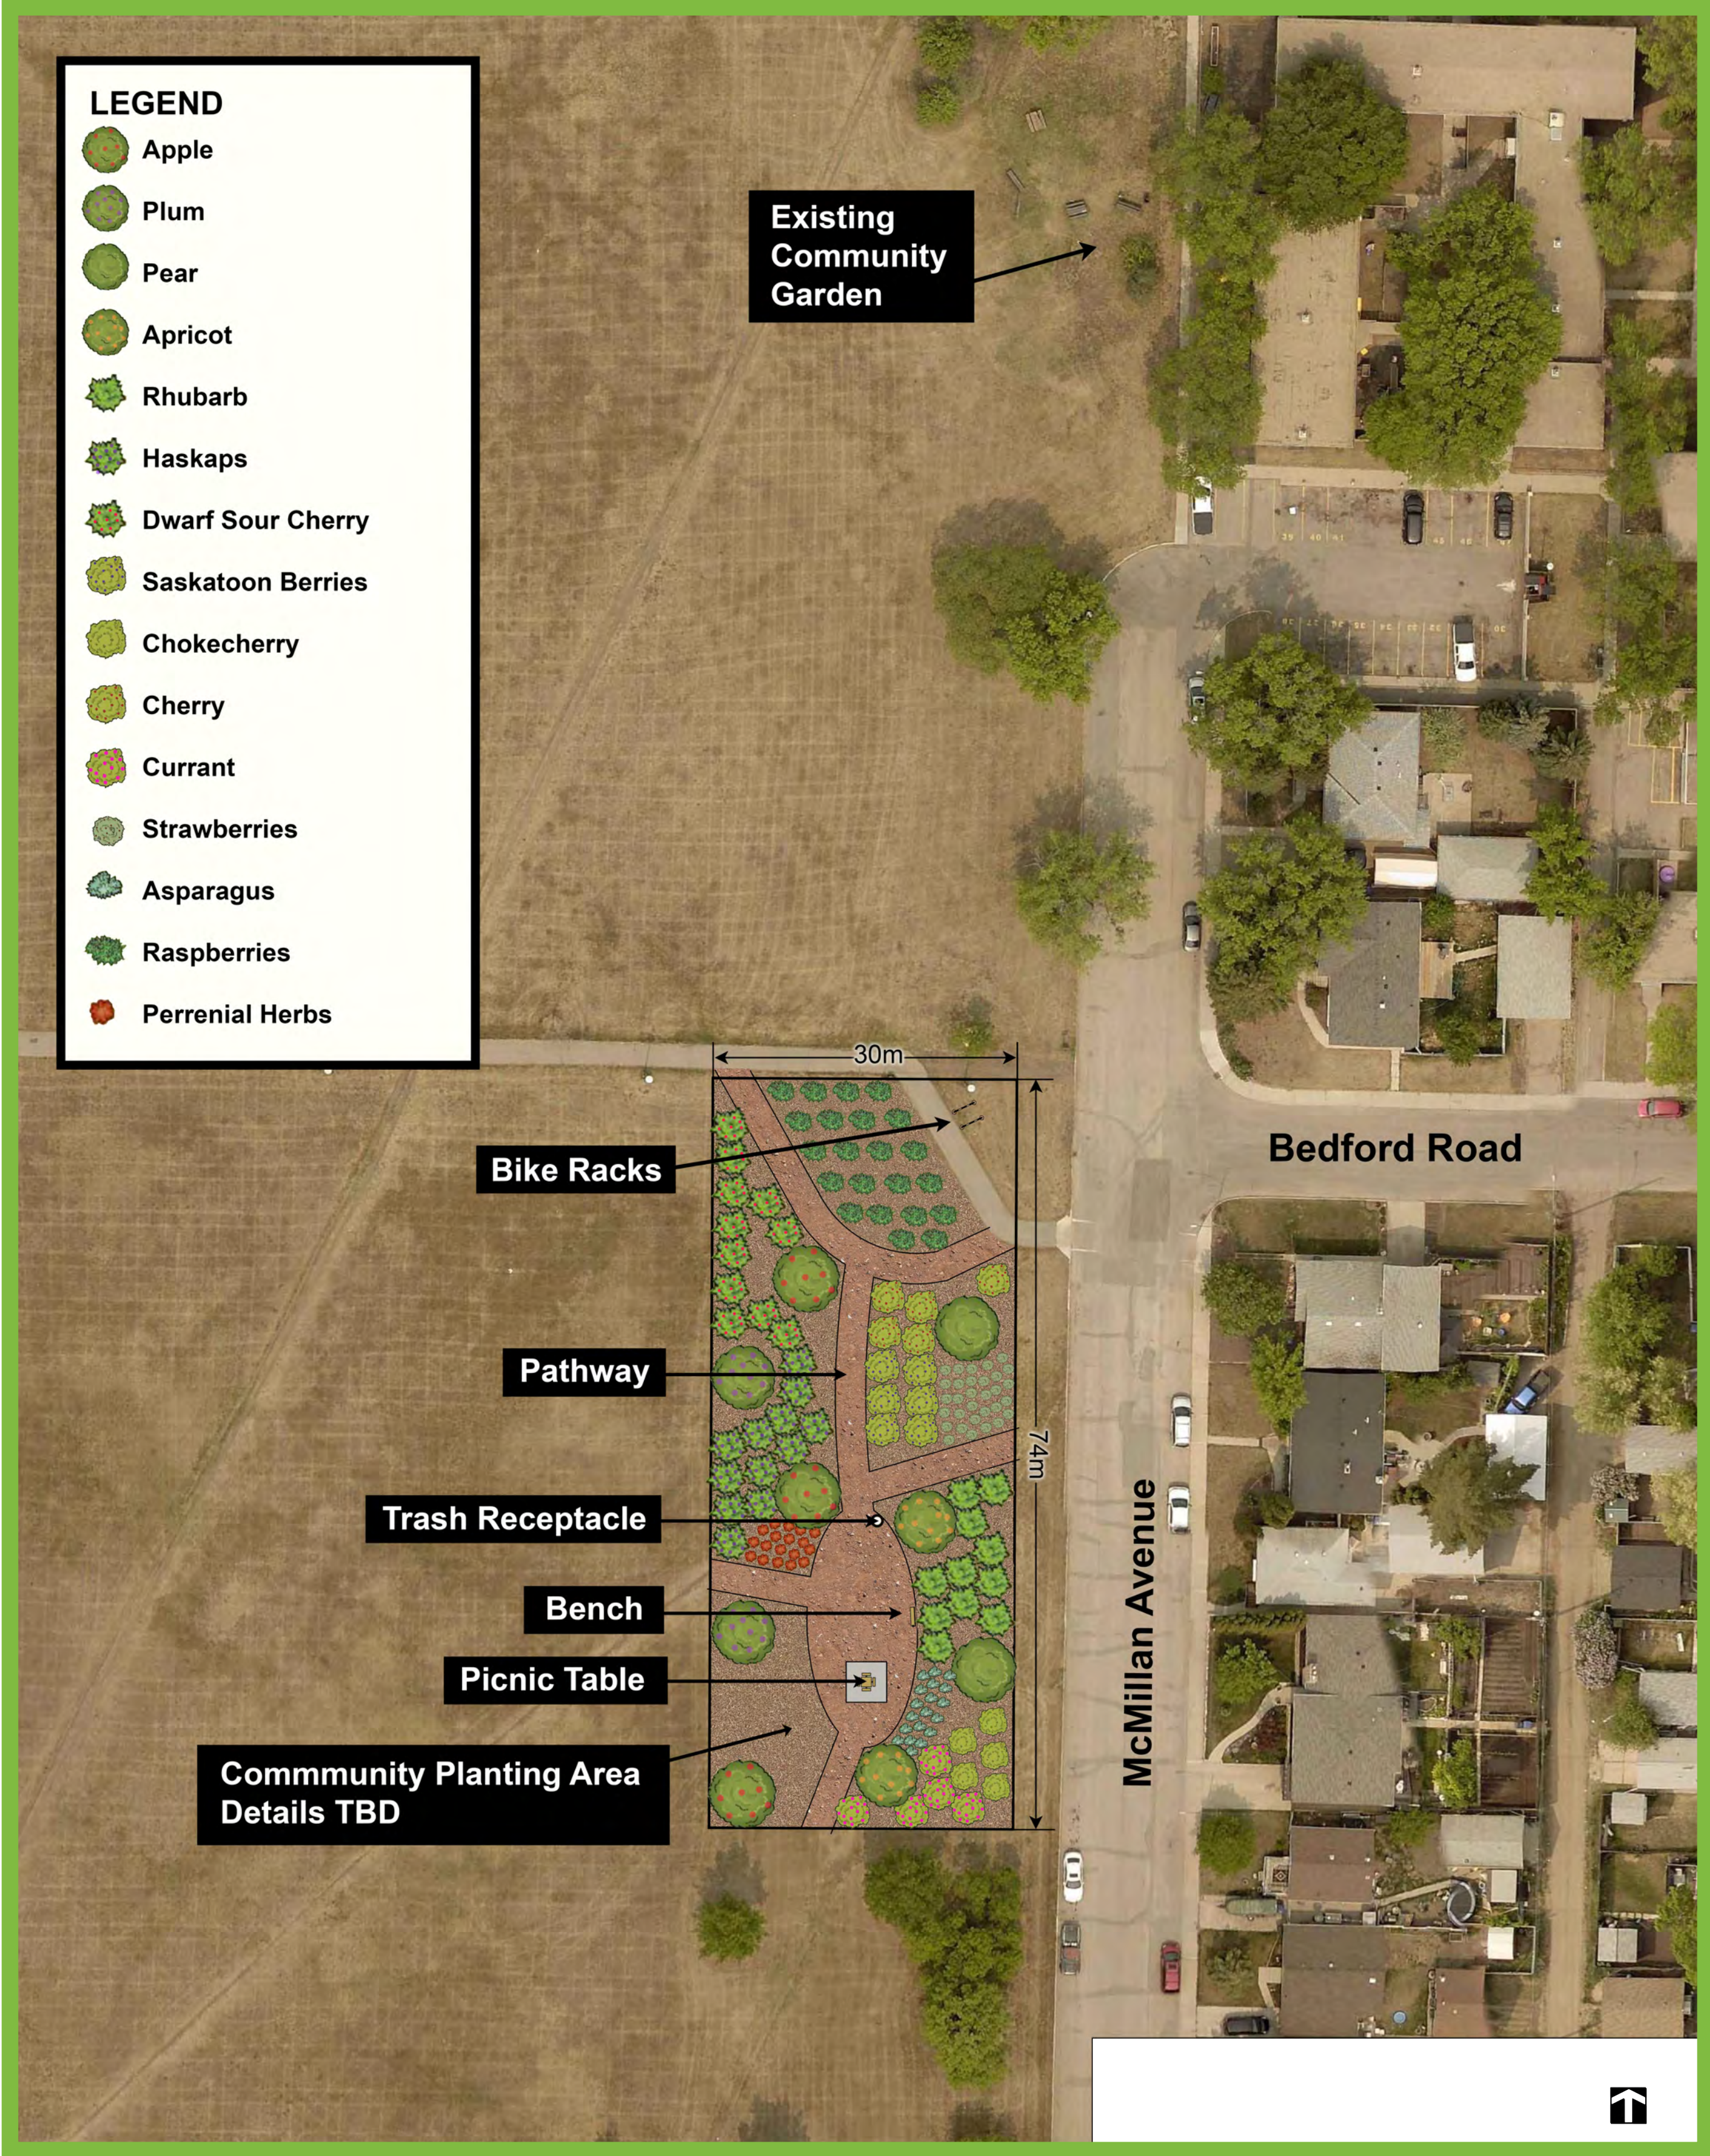

Leif Erickson Park Design

We want to hear from you!

Share your feedback on the design of the food forest by completing a short online survey.

saskatoon.ca/engage/food-forests

NOTE: The design presented is a concept plan only. The food forest may be installed in phases with a smaller portion of the site completed in 2024.

What's Next?

FALL 2023/SUMMER 2024: Installation of the food forest demonstration sites in Leif Erickson Park and Boughton Park

FALL 2023/WINTER 2024: City-wide engagement on next steps

For more information, visit
saskatoon.ca/engage/food-forests

Help Us Grow!

Would you or an organization you are involved with like to help with the ongoing maintenance and stewardship of the food forest demonstration sites? Let us know and we'll reach out to discuss the opportunities.